

Kevin W. Walker

FILM & CONCERT COMPOSER | ORCHESTRATOR | AUDIO POST-PRODUCTION

SHORT BIO

Kevin W. Walker is an award-winning film and concert composer based in Burbank, California. He has composed music for more than 40 film projects, bringing a classically trained musical voice and decades of recording experience to storytelling on screen.

Walker received the Roger Taylor Award for Best Original Score - Short Film at the Idyllwild International Festival of Cinema in consecutive years, for Promises in 2023 and Hard Light in 2024. His recent work includes Révérence, orchestral arrangements for St. Nick of Bethlehem, and the feature film Beyond the Crashing Waves.

A graduate of The University of the Arts in Philadelphia, Walker later studied composition privately with Academy Award and Grammy-winning composer John Corigliano. His work also encompasses concert composition, orchestration, arranging, music production and audio post-production.
